THE LATE KING GEORGE V. Who Passed Away Monday.

TUESDAY NEXT PUBLIC HOLIDAY

Tuesday next has been proclaimed a public holiday throughout the British Empire, in honor of His Late Majesty King George the Fifth, whose funeral takes place on that date.

Glancing over the calendar for 1936, we find that this Leap Year, that February has five Saturdays; that Easter Sunday falls on a Sunday, April the 12th; that Dominion Day falls on Wednesday, July the 1st; that Labor Day falls on September the 7th, thus giving the school an extra week's holiday; that the year has 54 Thursdays; that Remembrance Day falls on Wednesday of the week, and that Christmas Day falls on a Friday.

King George the V. Dead

Great Britain's beloved sovereign, King George V., died peacefully Monday night at Sandringham, following but a four-days' illness.

With his death, the Prince of Wales automatically became the King and adopted the title King Edward VIII. King George, in the twenty-sixth year of his reign, was "seventy at death."

Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales and other members of the Royal family, and the Archbishop of Canterbury, were at the bedside when he died at 11.55 p.m. (4.55 p.m. Mountain Standard Time).

Messages of sympathy from all parts of the world were received at Sandringham and London.

The funeral of King George V. will be held Tuesday, January the 28th, in St. George's chapel of Windsor Castle. The body will lie in state in Westminster Hall from Thursday until the time of the funeral. A full state procession will accompany the body from Westminster Hall to Paddington, from where it will be taken to Windsor.

The life of the late beloved sovereign is given briefly:

The new King, who took oath of office on Wednesday, is well known in Alberta as the rancher of Pekisko, and is numbered amongst Alberta's citizens. He was born at White Lodge, Richmond Park, on June 23, 1864. He automatically became Duke of Cornwall under an ancient charter. It was not until 1910 when his father assumed the throne that he became Prince of Wales. The ceremony conferring that honor on him was performed in 1911 in the same year that he became a cadet of the Royal Navy at Dartmouth. In that year the King also invested his son with the Order of the Garter.

The Prince was educated at Osborne, Dartmouth and Oxford. He matriculated in 1902, two years after he had been created Prince of Wales. While he was at Oxford he qualified in the Royal Navy as a midshipman. In 1919 he was promoted Captain, R.N. Meantime he had qualified for, and received a commission in, the Army. When the war broke out he was a Second Lieutenant in the Grenadier Guards, was made a Lieutenant in November, 1914, a Captain in 1916, got his temporary majority in 1918, and was gazetted Colonel in 1919. His military title during his Empire trip was Colonel of the Welsh Guards. In Canada he is Colonel-in-Chief of the Toronto Regiment, and the Canadian Grenadier Guards, Montreal, and Honorary Colonel of the Third Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons, Peterborough, Ontario. In addition he has many honorary brevets in British regiments and is a high officer of the Royal Air Force.

During the war he served on the French and Italian fronts. He has received civil and military decorations besides his numerous British ones, from India, Spain, France, Italy, Denmark, Norway, Russia, the Vatican, Rumania and Egypt, and has been invested with degrees by the universities of Edinburgh, Oxford, Cambridge, St. Andrew's and London; in Canada by Toronto, Alberta and Queen's; and elsewhere in the Empire by Melbourne, Cape Town, Calcutta, Benares, Hong Kong and Witwatersrand.

The Prince has visited practically every part of the civilized world. Between 1919 and 1926, when he was making his official tours, he was more talked about and written about than any other human being. In the United States his popularity was very great, although its citizens never ceased to be amazed at the simplicity and democratic spirit which endeared the Prince to them. In the last few years the American newspapers have followed his progress with keen interest. He will be the first British king Americans feel they know personally. Canadians who are familiar with the slender, high-strung young prince, know that physically he closely resembles his grandfather, the late King Edward VII.

King Edward VIII. issued his first public command as King shortly after he returned to London, calling the court to observe nine months' mourning for his father. The following notice was posted outside Buckingham Palace:

"The King commands that the court shall wear mourning for nine months from this day for His Late Most

KING EDWARD VIII. Succeeds to British Throne

Gracious Majesty King George V., of blessed memory. The court is to change to half mourning on Tuesday, July 21st next."

The coronation of King Edward VIII. will not take place till about one year hence.

PREMIER EXPRESSES GRIEF REGARDING DEATH OF KING

Edmonton, Jan. 21.—Grief over the death of King George V. was expressed by Premier William Aberhart on being informed of His Majesty's passing.

Premier Aberhart said: "On behalf of the people of Alberta, I wish to express profound grief upon the passing of our beloved King."

"His Majesty during the 26 years of his reign endeared himself to the hearts of his loyal subjects throughout the Empire."

"His unstinted devotion to his duty, his keen personal interest in the welfare of his people, his sympathetic understanding of the trials and tribulations that have beset the world, his genuine desire for peace—all these have contributed to the undying love and respect in which our King has been held by his subjects everywhere."

"In recent years, the radio has on great occasions brought His Majesty's voice into millions of homes to thrill the hearts of his people."

"The personal touch of these messages has brought the King closer to his subjects than the far-flung nature of the Empire has ever before permitted."

"This, of course, adds to the bereavement that must be felt upon his departure from us."

"I join with all the people of Alberta in mourning the death of our great monarch, whose wisdom and kindness won the love and respect, not only of his own subjects, but of peoples in every peaceful, liberty-loving country in the world."—E.S.

At a meeting of the executive of the Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival, held at the Greenhill hotel on Tuesday night, the dates set for the 1936 festival were November 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

Fraser McLeod, provincial boiler inspector stationed at Lethbridge, has resigned from the government service to take a position with the International Coal & Coke Co. at Coleman as master mechanic.

John Shevels, of Bellevue, officiated very acceptably at the opening service of the week of prayer on Monday night at the United church. The congregation was not as large as was expected, due no doubt to the fact that folks were at home endeavoring to catch radio broadcasts from England. On Tuesday night, Rev. A. E. Larke, of the United church, spoke to a fair-sized congregation at St. Luke's Anglican church. On Wednesday night, Rev. A. S. Partington officiated at the United church, while Mr. Larke again appeared at St. Luke's last night. The closing service of the week takes place at the United church tonight.

PREMIER MINISTER TO TEACHERS

It is with pleasure that I respond to the invitation to convey through The A.T.A. Magazine my greetings to the teachers of Alberta.

The disabilities under which our economic system has been struggling in recent years have in many ways adversely affected education and educational activities. Sacrifices have been made, and progress has been impeded. Education in many parts of the Province has been conducted under very unfavorable conditions. Our teachers have been called upon to carry a large share of the burden imposed by these conditions. For the most part they have done so courageously, giving service to the best of their ability, remaining loyal to their profession and the trust reposed in them by the people of the Province.

We go forward now with a strong determination to bring about a betterment of conditions. Changes in the educational system are recognized as necessary in the interests of all concerned. Our problem now is to bring about those changes in such a way as to obtain the maximum co-operation from all those whose efforts are being devoted to the cause of education. I am confident that we can count upon the teachers for their wholehearted co-operation.

And so I wish you all a Happy New Year, and one to be remembered as a year of outstanding achievements in the field of education.—WM. ABERHART.

A GOOD WORD FOR MR. ABERHART

During the Christmas and New Year's holiday the editor of this paper and his wife visited relatives and friends in Salmon Arm, B.C., and during this time publication ceased. One of the great things confronting us out there was the interest taken in Social Credit and like the rest of the world, all eyes are on Alberta. Everyone listens in to Premier Aberhart's radio addresses, especially Sunday afternoons. We attended one service out there in which the speaker stated that the city of Calgary held the highest standing in clean living youth of any city or town in Canada, and this was due to the religious influence of Premier Aberhart and his Prophetic Bible Institute—Stavely Advertiser.

Now Science Explains Why So Many People Past 40

Feel That They're Slipping
Losing Their "Grip" on Things

Many people "round 40 think they're 'growing old.' They feel tired a lot... 'weak.' Have headaches, dizziness, stomach upsets.

Well, scientists say the cause of all this, in a great many cases, is simply an acid condition of the stomach. Nothing more.

All you have to do is to neutralize the excess stomach acidity.

When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. That's all!

Try this. Soon you'll feel like another person! Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS" or the convenient new PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia Tablets, made in Canada.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM:

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each box contains the equivalent of a teaspoonful of pure liquid Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Vacuum Tube Shows Scene As Sharp As Visible Light

Science has given man an eye to see in the dark—a foot-long vacuum tube on which the invisible infra-red and ultra-violet rays that fill the air form a visible, living, moving, continuous image.

The new tube was shown for the first time at a general meeting in St. Louis of the American Association for the Advancement of Science by its discoverers and inventors, Dr. V. K. Zworykin and Dr. George Morton of the Radio Corporation of America laboratories.

The scene revealed by the vision tube is greenish-black and white, without other colors. But it is as sharp and distinct as visible light.

Many practical applications appear to be immediately realizable. An airplane with such a telescope could guide itself into a secret landing field by an infra-red, or black light, beacon so dark as to be invisible to persons near it on the field.

Of all the stories of Dwight Morrow's absentmindedness this is one of the best. The reply was downtown. "That's fine, then," beamed the banker. "I've had my lunch."

Woman Receives $1,000 Legacy For Befriending Stranger

A few minutes' hospitality and a little kindness shown by a Prince Edward Island woman to a stranger 36 years ago has been remembered by a bequest of $1,000 specified in the will of the recipient of the kindness. The legacy was bequeathed to Mrs. Reuben Cate, a native of Summerside, by Miss Grace Fletcher Kelly, 80-year-old eccentric Boston recluse, who died in that city recently.

In 1900, Miss Kelly was in East Concord attending the funeral of her sister, which was being held in a cemetery directly adjoining the lot on which stood Mrs. Cate's home. After the service Mrs. Cate noticed Miss Kelly standing, overcome with grief, beside the grave. Although she was a stranger, Mrs. Cate went to the graveyard and invited the Boston woman "to come in and rest and have a cup of tea."

Miss Kelly accepted the invitation, and said on leaving: "I'll never forget you for this."

JESUS DECLARES HIS PURPOSE

Golden text: The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he anointed me to preach good tidings to the poor; he hath sent me to proclaim release to the captive.

And recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to proclaim the acceptance year of the Lord. Luke 4:18, 19.

Lesson: Luke 4:16-44. Devotional reading: Isaiah 61:1-3, 10, 11.

Explanations and Comments

Jesus Declares His Purpose, Luke 4:16-21. Jesus came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up and where he had lived through his early manhood until the age of thirty, and on the Sabbath entered the synagogue as his custom was. From the age of four he had been trained by his parents to attend the synagogue services, and now that he had come back inspired for his great work he continued to frequent the place of worship.

As requested by the presiding officer of the synagogue, or of his own accord as was frequently done, Jesus stood up to read the morning lesson. The attendant (verse 20) in whose charge were the rolls, handed him the roll of the prophet Isaiah, and he unrolled it at the sixty-first chapter and read the first two verses, adding thereto the clause from Isaiah 58:6, "to set at liberty them that are bruised." It purposely inserted these other words in the passage read, in accordance with a common custom. The rabbi said: The reader of the phylah may skip from one text to another, but he may not skip from one prophet to another, but in the twelve (minor) it is lawful. This passage, in which the prophet declares to the exiles their approaching deliverance, is now read in Jewish synagogues on the Day of Atonement, and may so have been read at the time.

The incredulity of the People, Luke 4:22-24. All his hearers were astonished at the words of grace which Jesus spoke, but the effect of the words was neutralized by their long-time acquaintance with him, read, said, in a buzz of talk as the discourse ended, "Is not this Joseph's son?" And therefore the Messiah, no one great, not the prophet, and certainly not the Messiah, they meant. Seeing Jesus in the flesh prevented their seeing Christ in Jesus.

A One-Track Mind

Man With Single Purpose Does Not Accomplish Much

We have grown accustomed in these days of hearing "the man with one idea" lauded as a very practical person, the one who has but a single purpose and holds steadily to that, and so accomplishes the more. The truth is that one idea is usually of very little worth unless it is accompanied by two or three others to give it ballast and direction. In nearly every industry and every business that employs help, the great mass of the employees are those who are fully occupied with doing the one thing they are engaged to do; the day's work for the day's wage is their limit, and beyond that the place holds for them neither interest nor care. But there are the few, the one or two, who are interested in the whole scheme—in what becomes of their work after it leaves their hands, how it fits in with the parts that others are doing, how the whole is managed and carried on, and the knowledge they gain enables them to do their own part better and to be ready for another part when they are called upon.

They are not content with knowing only a fraction, they are intelligently eager to understand the whole, and it is these few, not the one-idea majority, who rise to positions of trust and power.

Likely To Be Wrong

Forecasting Weather Far In Advance Has Its Perils

The perils of weather forecasting for any long time in advance have been so often demonstrated that one must wonder at its being attempted so frequently. Many will recall the prediction that on December 17, 1919, the thermometers in Alberta would go to 100 degrees below zero. Winter had come unusually early and there had been an altogether abnormal stretch of severe cold. This affected a large number of Albertans that they were prepared to believe the worst, and very real fears were entertained that the date in question would see the prophecy realized. But it turned out to be about the mildest day of the winter.

No Such Thing As Gravity Claims Winnipeg Doctor

There is no such thing as magnetic or electric attraction and no pull of gravity, in the opinion of Dr. H. P. McPhail, Winnipeg physician.

He told the Royal Astronomical Society, Winnipeg Centre, these scientific facts were based on a speed of light of 186,000 miles per second, but, he claimed there was no normal or constant speed of light.

The essential difference between Dr. McPhail's theory and that of orthodox scientists was that he admitted no force except through direct contact.

In other words, the genial doctor said, there was no mysterious attraction or repulsion without an actual transference of motion through a medium of contact.

Thus, claimed Dr. McPhail as the learned members sat up in their seats, there was no pull of gravity and no pull of magnetic attraction. It was always a propulsive force of a rotating nature, he said.

This push of gravity is always due to infinitesimally small rays moving in every direction with tremendous energy, penetrating all matter and acting upon all particles within the mass.

"People with little knowledge of astronomy often make curious mistakes which are sometimes hard to refute," Dr. J. S. Plaskett, world-renowned scientist of Victoria, said.

"No scientist believes that there is no force without contact," Dr. Plaskett said. "The force of gravity is a known fact and the amount can be measured, but why the force of gravity exists, we do not know."

Dr. Plaskett laughingly declined to comment on the suggestion of a fellow scientist that a simple demonstration of Dr. McPhail's theory would be for the Winnipeg medico to step off an aeroplane 1,000 feet in the air and see if he could float.

Emblem For Province Of Saskatchewan Hard To Find

The black-eyed Susan and the tiger lily, the waving, the chickadee, the grouse and the wild goose, were all advocated before a meeting of the Regina Natural History Society as flowers and birds emblematic of Saskatchewan. But the society left the matter over to the legislature.

Ald. J. H. Taylor, president, pointed out that the society wasn't trying to have the emblem adopted as its own suggestion but aimed to interest other organizations, the Horticultural Society and the Fish and Game Society. A Saskatchewan emblem would then be pressed for before the legislature.

Prof. H. Schmidt, representing the Regina Horticultural Society, stated that organization had adopted the prairie rose as its emblem until it was found that Alberta already had the flower.

Mr. Taylor, noting that a newspaper correspondent had urged the grasshopper and dandelion be put in the emblem, termed the man a "horror curiatist, not a horticulturist."

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches, or the pains of rheumatism, neuralgia or sciatica, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with "Aspirin".

We say this because, before the discovery of "Aspirin", most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach, or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of "Aspirin" largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken "Aspirin" year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: "Aspirin" is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

FLEMING'S FOLLY

—BY—
LAWRENCE A. KEATINGE

SYNOPSIS

Here is an absorbing and exciting story of a fight against stubborn prejudice and a bitter personal malignancy—of a girl and a man battling ridicule, sabotage, bullets, and the treachery that would turn them against each other.

The story opens with Link Fleming addressing a meeting of Boone County cattlemen, called together with the object of forming an irrigation company.

Roper Kilgo, the boss of the Rawhide and nearby ranges, who seemed to approve the plan, but was really opposed to it, had forced Boone County, a derelict mining engineer, whom Kilgo knew would be called upon to give his expert opinion in favor of the scheme, to reverse his earlier endorsement, and declare that irrigation in Boone county so far as Hamilton's plan was concerned, was only a new-fangled way to waste money.

The meeting terminated, but Buzz Hamilton and his sister, Helen, and Kilgo stay behind and Helen asks Fleming questions about his irrigation plan. This angers Buzz, who accuses Fleming of trying to influence his sister and, as he asserts, rule his "spread". Buzz shoots at Fleming in an uncontrollable fit of anger, but Buster Townsend, Link's foreman, is shot in the stomach, and Fleming is uninjured. Roper is arrested. The doctor attends Townsend and cleans his wound. Kilgo Roper suggests taking Helen to her home, but she refuses and Fleming sends her home instead. This incident causes Roper to declare open hostility to Fleming. Helen and Fleming form a partnership to provide irrigation for their own properties. Link goes home, and is surprised to find Kilgo there ahead of him. Kilgo tries to induce Link to drop his scheme, and when Fleming refuses, gives a signal by taking off his hat, and Link is shot at from outside the house.

Both men froze at the ringing command from Sheriff Ames Stephen. "We had enough gun-talk 'to-day' he remarked coldly. 'What's the matter here, can't you men get along?'"

"He called me a liar," Roper growled.

"He did distort the truth a bit, according to my views. Helen," Link went on directly, "are you heading out to the ranch?"

"Why—uh, I'd sort of planned going that way, Helen," Kilgo interposed, rubbing his jaw.

She hesitated while the three men watched her. "Why yes, but there's something important I want to talk to Link about."

His face lighted slowly with a knowing grin. "Shore, I savvy! I'll come over tonight and have a good talk. Remember what I told you, Helen."

"About trying to buy me out, so as to protect her from my bad influence?" Link grinned. "That's stretching the truth too, Roper. There was a queer shooting scrape at my place that night—"

"Shootin'?" Helen exclaimed.

"Nobody told me about it!" Ames Stephen growled.

"Probably some guy ridin' home drunk. Nobody got hurt."

Fleming turned to him and bowed. "Thanks to poor marksmanship. Better get someone else next time, Roper."

He bristled again. "Are you tryin' to make out I put some guy up to that?"

Helen darted between the men, both of them rising to hot anger again. "Stop! Why, Link, whatever possessed you? I've known Roper for years and I know he wouldn't have anything to do with an attempted murder. That is too much, altogether too much. Whatever you think of him, it's foolish to call a man a killer when you haven't the slightest proof."

"I—why, Link, I'm surprised at you!"

He stepped back in dismay. The suddenness of her defense of Kilgo brought a look of perplexity to the rancher's rather handsome face. Fleming avoided her accusing eyes. Seemingly he had overstepped himself. The heightening sense of trouble brewing, with Roper as his chief antagonist had, perhaps, caused him to be indiscreet.

"Ah, Link, let's forget it. Come on, what do you say?" The other shuffled forward wearing a forced smile of friendliness. One hand was thrust out in the pretense of forgiving. Link eyed him an instant. Then his lips lowered and his voice sounded cold and controlled.

"That's just a grandstand play, and you know it. There's no friendship between us!"

He turned on his heel and started off. But with a gasp Helen scurried after and seized his sleeve. "Link, please! Why not be friends? If you won't," she hinted with color draining from her cheeks, "I'm afraid you will have made a choice. Roper is a good friend of Buzz, and he has known Buzz and me longer than—than you have. I mean, well—almost anyone who is a man is willing to forgive and forget. Are you trying to make trouble?"

"As Link, let's forget it. Come on, what do you say?" The other shuffled forward wearing a forced smile of friendliness. One hand was thrust out in the pretense of forgiving. Link eyed him an instant. Then his lips lowered and his voice sounded cold and controlled.

fer to go on alone—or to have Roper, who rode with several other men a half mile behind, escort her home.

"By the way," Link said, drawing his buckskin near as the dismounted, before the bank. "I don't want to press you about this irrigation business, but I'm wonderin' if you really want to come in with me. Maybe you'd like to think it over real careful, now. Kill—er, folks are so set against it."

She tied her pony, then smiled at him from the sidewalk. "I've decided to go into it. And I never back out of a thing, Link."

His heart leaped. It was true that Triple H lately adjoining his Link Loop spread would benefit the most, was the local outfit to club with him for the erection of a dam to back up Silver Creek.

"When can we get down to bed rock on this proposition?" he asked. "The thing should be started now so we'd get an alfalfa crop early next summer. If we wait till spring it'll be that much longer for a return."

She hesitated, then spoke what was on her mind. "Link, I didn't want you to have more trouble with Roper—that's why I asked you to shake hands with him. I came with you now to say that. Perhaps you don't like him, but after all, he is a friend of mine."

He flushed and made no reply. "But I'll tell him not to come to the ranch to-night. You come, Link, and we'll talk over all our plans for irrigation. Why not come early, for supper?"

The Box 50 owner, Benson and Sheriff Stephen were dismantling a few yards away. Fleming felt certain Kilgo had heard Helen's invitation. He could not restrain a thrill of triumph. "Fine. I'll see to be there!"

Turning his mount, he started at a brisk run for the Star Loop.

Pieper, he knew, would attempt to talk her out of participating in what the conservative banker now regarded as a "wildcat" scheme. Otto's habit was to believe what the majority of local citizens believed, he had discovered long ago that such a policy kept him in the good graces of influential men who might otherwise have ousted him from the bank presidency. Link hoped that Helen would not state her intention to Otto. As for Kilgo, he felt certain now the man could not persuade her out of the partnership.

Smallest Coin in Panama

Medio Torno Two And Half Cents Used By Poor

Down in Panama the smallest coin is known as a "medio", worth about 2½ cents, there being no 1-cent piece. The coin is used extensively by the poorer classes of the population. All goods capable of being reduced in lots to such value are quoted in that unit. This is particularly the case with biscuits of the cheap sweet variety which are very much in favor with the native population. The United States supplies the greater portion of this trade, while Great Britain caters to the demand for fancy or more expensive types of biscuits. Canada enjoys a comparatively small share of the trade along with Germany, according to the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways. There is somewhat limited domestic production of cheap biscuits by individual bakers, more or less as a sideline. There is a steady and considerable consumption of soda biscuits, largely among the native population.

Gun Encrusted With Jewels

Beautiful Piece Of Work Being Returned To Ceylon

One of the most beautiful pieces of early Cingalese craftsmanship in existence will shortly be returned to Ceylon from London. It is a handgun four feet long and encrusted with finely chased gold and precious stones. In 1815 it was in the armoury of Sir Wikrama Raja Sinha, the deposed King of Ceylon, and was brought to England by Sir John P.O'Byrne. It is now being purchased for Ceylon by Dr. Paul Pieris, the Ceylon Trade Commissioner in England.

Unified Air Express

Will Cover United States And Part Of Canada

A unified air and air-rail express service covering the United States, with provision for Canadian facilities, and extending across the Pacific and to South America, was announced by L. O. Head, president of the Railway Express Agency, following a meeting with representatives of interested air lines in New York.

Twenty of the 23 domestic air lines in the United States and Pan American Airways have signed contracts with the Railway Express Agency for the service which is to be inaugurated February 1. A door-to-door pickup and delivery service is contemplated for 215 cities in the United States and Canada with a population of 40,000,000 and, through the Pan American Airways system, with 32 foreign countries.

It was pointed out that the air express system, started in 1917, has grown—until in 1935 2,240,000,000 pound miles were flown, handling an estimated total of 2,400,000 pounds of express.

Under the new set up a pound of express may be transported across the continent by any route for 96 cents a pound. The rate on the newly established line from California to Hawaii will be $1.67 a pound.

Trains Chickens For Movies

The lack of trained chickens in Hollywood gave Warren William an idea. The actor has established the film colony's first school for fowl which may be film-struck but a little while about it. Thirty chickens have been started on a course of education which he believes will fit them for every demand of the movies.

Little Helps For This Week

Behold God is my salvation. I will trust and not be afraid; for the Lord Jehovah is my strength and my song. He also is become my salvation. Isaiah 12:2.

Still heavy is thy heart, Still sinks thy spirit down? Cast thy weight, let fear depart, And every care be gone.

Go on in all simplicity; do not be so anxious to win a quiet mind, and it will be all the quieter. Do not examine so closely into the progress of thy soul. Do not crave so much to be perfect, but let your spiritual life be formed by your duties and by the actions which are called forth by circumstances. Do not take over-much thought for tomorrow. God who has led you safely so far will lead you on to the end. Be altogether at rest in the loving holy confidence which you ought to have in His heavenly Providence.

Mexico City got its name from the Aztec war god, Mexitli.

Hard Year For Trappers

That some system of relief for Indians and trappers operating in northern Saskatchewan furlands will be essential unless trapping of beaver is made legal in the spring was the note sounded in reports of hardship brought to civilization with Pilot Angus Campbell of the M. and C. Aviation Company.

With the fur catch estimated as between one-third and one-quarter of last winter, in itself considered a poor year, trappers are facing difficulties hitherto unencountered, he said.

Blairmore, Alta., Fri., Jan. 24, 1936

Referring to extracts from the auditor's report, contained in another column of this issue, there are items worthy of questioning at the annual meeting of ratepayers on Friday night of next week. Take, for instance, the item of election expenses ($246.30)—the biggest ever known to the town of Blairmore; dog taxes ($49.00)—the amount claimed to have been paid for tags for the year, net representing near 30% of the dogs allowed to prowl around town (revenue amounted to $49.00); legal expenses ($769.40) the biggest in the town's history; delegates' expenses ($459.00), which included Mayor Knight's trip to Toronto on other than town's business. What charge in this connection could be laid is difficult to say, but it amounted to "money taken from the treasury for an illegal purpose." It was not intended for such purpose, and the mayor and others who signed the cheque must have known so. Rent of hall for Communist meetings, Tim Buck and Rev. East ($60.00), to which the same conditions apply. Advance to J. Fitzpatrick, probably at the time he was facing a criminal charge ($300.00), $125.00 of which is claimed repaid; mothers' allowances due ($972.50); Christmas hampers ($424.85); Sundry liabilities not itemized ($22,088.82); and loss on operation for the year ($976.11). These are but a few of the most glaring items suggested through the auditor's report. How does the $976.11 compare with the deficit estimated a few months ago of around $4,000.00 for the year 1935? A copy of this issue reaches the department of municipal affairs, Edmonton.

In the list of people who drew big salaries last year we notice that among the newspaper fraternity that W. R. Hearst drew $500,000 and C. B. Blethen of the Seattle Times, $114,000. Of the newspaper columnists, Arthur Brisbane did pretty well, too, for he pulled down $265,000, and Walter Winchell drew yet totalling $250,000. In scanning the list, the names of "J.B.C." of the Nelson Daily News, and "F.J.S." of the Cranbrook Courier appear to have been inadvertently omitted. Just a slight oversight, we take it—Fred Smyth in Cranbrook Courier.

It looks as though Major Douglas isn't at all anxious to complete his job in Alberta. We're inclined to the view that the Major, canny Scot that he is, knows that the Social Credit Scheme will not work out in Alberta and rather than risk his future livelihood by attempting to do the impossible, is content to let Mr. Premier Aberhart put his plan in effect. If it fails the Major will just sit back and say, "Well I didn't have anything to do with the Alberta scheme, don't blame me." That mightn't be his idea, but it's a darn good guess.—Drumheller News Review.

It is but a comparatively short time since a large number of people in the Pass towns were following the leadership of a rather wild-eyed fanatic, whose pernicious teachings were on a fair way to wrecking the coal industry, if he had his way, and "basting" every union in the province. Many of the same people who either fell for such mouthings or sat astride the fence to see which way the cat would jump are quite as ready now to swallow any old bait thrown out to them, without thinking out the course they should pursue. True enough, ninety per cent of the people are led, and the discreditable minority who disagree with their pet fads are rotters and what not. Most amusing it

Premier Aberhart is quite within his rights in proposing to start a daily newspaper. It is the privilege of anyone to do so, any place and any time. In it he can advocate any theory within the law. But it is safe to say that if he does, he will quickly become a wiser and a sadder man. Almost all publishers are sad; a few are almost wise.—Saskatoon Star-Phoenix.

A good one is told in Drumheller. A strong supporter of Social Credit visited the Mail printing office and placed a printing job with the editor. In the course of conversation, he asked: "What do you think of Social Credit and Aberhart?" Being an independent paper (politically) the editor did not wish to commit himself, so replied: "It may work out all right, but we have a bone to pick with Aberhart on that liquor advertising ban business." "Oh, don't worry about that," the customer said, "if Aberhart takes anything away from you now, he has something in mind which will repay you later on." Editor: "Yes, later on! Eighteen months!"

Fred Turnbull, editor of the Red Deer (Alberta) Advocate, was in the city Thursday last, enroute to California for a two months visit. Mr. Turnbull was formerly employed on the Cranbrook Herald, some thirty years ago. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Fulton. Mr. Fulton was employed on the staff of the Pink Mercantile Company, in the grocery department, about the same time Mr. Turnbull was on the Herald staff.—Cranbrook Courier.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

A very successful dance was held at the home of the Warner brothers, on the old Kemmis ranch, on night of January 17th. The proceeds were added to the St. Martin's church fund.

The Home Helpers Club held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Porter on Wednesday evening, Jan. 22. After the meeting, a card party was held with the gentlemen who had been invited, "five hundred" being in order.

Arthur Tustian was confined to his home through illness the early part of the week.

The annual meeting of the ratemakers of Cowley School District 373 was held at the school house on Saturday afternoon last. After the reading of the minutes and disposing of routine business, Arthur Tustian was elected trustee, filling the vacancy left by Wilfred Fortier, whose term of office expired on that date.

Miss Clare Bundy spent the week end in Pincher Creek, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Burns.

On Friday night last, the young folk gathered at the home of the newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tustian, when Bedlam broke loose in the form of a charivari. After serenading for some length in this noisy manner, and after giving the groom the royal bumps, the whole party marched to the Masonic hall, where they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Tustian till the small hours in a lively dance.

The Cowley Girls' Club was entertained by the Misses Maisonneuve at their home on Tuesday evening last.

In spite of the bitterly cold weather, the Cowley Girls' Club staged a very successful card party and dance in the Masonic hall on Wednesday night, when the early part of the evening was devoted to progressive whist, with twelve tables at play. Prizes were won in the following order: ladies' first and consolation, Misses Regina Maisonneuve and Edith Murphy, while Lloyd Morrison and M. A. Murphy were awarded the gentlemen's prizes. After a dainty luncheon, served by the club, a lively dance for a couple of hours was much enjoyed. Proceeds will be added to the tennis court fund.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

C. Hulley, who is teaching in Michel-Natal school, was a week end visitor with friends here.

The remains of Mrs. Anna Haidei were laid to rest in the Hillcrest cemetery on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Lethian, of Lethbridge, was a visitor over the week end at the home of Mrs. J. Douglas.

Miss Lottie Thornton, who has been visiting in Spokane, returned to her home here last week.

Mrs. M. B. Walker underwent a slight operation in the Calgary general hospital on Friday.

A CONSECRATED NEWSPAPER

In its editorial columns on Wednesday, the Calgary Albertan states that it will hereafter be "consecrated" to the principles of Social Credit. The word "consecrated" appeared to us to be a big word for the occasion, and we decided to look it up in the dictionary to see if our memory had failed us—but it had not. The ideals of the Albertan will indeed be very high if they are to be all that is claimed for them, and we are indeed glad to learn that, with the merging of the Social Credit Chronicle and the Albertan, our friend Charles Underwood will be associated with such a righteous newspaper.—MacLeod Gazette.

WEEKLY EDMONTON NEWS LETTER

(By T. B. Windross)

Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 20.—Another point of difficulty has been passed safely by the Alberta government. The bond issue falling due has been met by the aid of the federal government and the danger of default has been turned aside. Hon. C. A. Dunning, federal finance minister, agreed to the loan that was needed to carry the province over another milestone and furnished the $1,577,000, required toward the $2,000,000, the remaining $423,000 being provided by the province out of the sinking fund which covered the bond issue itself. The next bond issue to be met falls due in April, and plans have not yet been made for that. The issue falling due then amounts to $3,200,000. The third large issue to fall due this year is a payment of $2,250,000, which will face the government on November 1.

A three months hiatus on the ban on liquor advertising in the newspapers of the province has been announced by the provincial government.

A delegation from the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association waited on Hon. J. W. Huggill Friday and secured this assurance from the minister. Application of the ban will not take place now until May 1. Some indication that the government will not leave the publishers without compensation was also given, and it was hinted that through printing orders from the government business may be added to the newspapers that will in part at least make up for the loss through the ban on liquor advertising.

An interesting piece of news was released during the week concerning the vacation of the old Parliament Buildings behind the present structure by the R.C.M.P. This old pillar brick building, whose history goes back to beyond the formation of the province of Alberta, when it was used as the executive buildings for the Northwest Territories, and where the council for the territories held its sessions, has seen some stirring episodes in the early history of Alberta. It will not be closed, but will be used as offices for various government branches now housed in other buildings. From 1905 to 1912 the buildings were the seat of the provincial government and then the new Parliament Buildings took their place. It is possible that the motion picture censor's branch may be removed there and the Dominion Farm Loan board may find more commodious quarters there also.

There has been a deal of discussion up and down the province regarding patronage in the government services. The government denies that it is practicing patronage more than previous administrations have, but there are plenty of critics who claim otherwise. Premier Aberhart in reply to a demand from a St. Paul Social Credit group for dismissal of all present government employees in that riding, and that appointment of successors to them be subject to endorsement by W. Beaudry, M.L.A., sitting member, said the government cannot accept this principle. "We cannot carry patronage that far. Unrestricted patronage will not be practiced by the provincial government."

An announcement of interest to holders of Provincial Savings Certificates all over the province was made by the government during the week, when it said cheques to cover interest on all demand certificates, totalling $185,000, had been mailed to holders of these certificates Thursday. The cheques represented interest at 4 and a half per cent, four and three per cent, depending upon the time of purchase, and the amount of money represented by these certificates was $4,900,000. Interest on term certificates, payable on each anniversary, has been paid regularly.

Premier Aberhart stood firmly against paying more than 70 per cent of relief costs for Edmonton and Calgary, when Mayors Andrew Davison, of Calgary, and Joseph Clarke, of Edmonton, called on him at the Parliament Buildings Friday. The stand the government has taken is that both cities and towns and rural municipalities will be treated alike in the matter of relief aid. The present state of the province's finances would not stand better than the 70 per cent, the premier said. The province is simply passing along to the municipalities part of the increased grant from the federal treasury. Mr. Aberhart impressed on the mayors that there must be no increase in relief scales and "chiseling" on accounts.

The annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta opened its sessions Tuesday in the Masonic Temple, Edmonton, and despite reduced membership in the organization, a large delegation attendance was provided for. Five hundred delegates are here at this the 28th annual convention of the organization. Addresses of welcome were given by His Honor W. L. Walsh, lieutenant-governor; Hon. William Aberhart, premier; and Mayor Andrew Clarke, of Edmonton. The convention will last until Friday night and important constitutional questions affecting the future of the U.F.A. will occupy the attention of the gathering.

Premier Aberhart began his Sunday night broadcast and religious services over CJA from the Strand Theatre, Edmonton, on Sunday night. Next Sunday his place will be taken at this service by Hon. E. C. Manning.

The Flin Flon News made the following remark in its first issue following the Christmas tide: "It was noted that the holiday season produced its regular crop of black eyes, headaches and miscellaneous minor items that tend to show the heathens what a civilized nation we really are."

A UNION MADE PRODUCT OF THE CALGARY BREWING AND MALTING COMPANY, LIMITED

Dr. John Denoon and wife, of the Gold Coast, Africa, who spent a few days here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. MacDonald, left for Halifax. From there they proceed to Toronto and Lethbridge, and will visit the doctor's mother and sister in the latter city. Dr. Denoon, eldest son of the late Rev. Dr. A. H. Denoon, bears a strong resemblance to his distinguished father.—New Glasgow Free Lance.

A Greyhound bus came to grief near Moyle Lake, B.C., on Thursday last. Crowded off the road by a Calgary car, the bus went over the edge of the road and rolled 150 feet to the C.P.R. tracks below. The driver and several passengers were injured, while several little children passengers escaped practically unhurt. The bus was loaded on a C.P.R. flat car and taken to the Calgary Greyhound shops for repairs.

For the benefit of some of those who like hearing themselves heralding that the men in relief camps are not sufficiently or properly fed we might quote a list taken from a local district camp menu as served Christmas day: Breakfast—Coffee, eggs, hotcakes, toast, bread, butter, jam. Noon—Roast turkey and cranberry sauce, green peas, mashed potatoes, plum pudding, mince pie, apples, oranges, nuts and candies. Supper—Cold turkey and trimmings, cold ham, head cheese, mashed potatoes, plum pudding, fruit cake, nuts and candies. In addition to the above, tobacco and cigars. A similar menu was served on New Year's Day.

Death Stalks The Highway

A recent announcement of the intention of the Federal department of transportation to conduct a campaign to reduce the annual toll of life and limb taken by automobiles and trucks on the highways and roads of Canada should be welcome news to all who use motor-driven power for business or pleasure. The campaign comes none too soon.

Statistics, just published, reveal that in the United States last year over 36,000 lives were lost by accidents in which automobiles and their drivers were the agents of death, in addition to an appalling number who were injured in greater or lesser degree. This means that, roughly, one out of every 5,555 persons in the U.S.A. perished by the automobile in 1935.

No doubt, when the figures are published, it will be found that the automobile accident death rate in Canada for 1935 was comparable to the American loss after allowing for the difference in population of the two countries and the lesser condensation of traffic. In 1934 the Canadian automobile casualty list totalled 1,108 deaths and 17,965 injured, some slightly.

Had 36,000 lives been snuffed out and hundreds of thousands injured in a single avoidable catastrophe in the United States last year, the nation would have gasped with horror. There would have been demands for investigation and the imposition of safeguards to prevent the possibility of recurrence of such an overwhelming catastrophe, but because these deaths and injuries represent nearly as many individual accidents, distributed throughout the year and scattered over a wide geographical area, it has been customary to dismiss them with a shrug of the shoulder and a comment about "some fool driver", except by the bereaved relatives and friends.

However, there are indications that citizens of the United States are becoming aroused at a condition of affairs which has become a national menace. This growing concern is largely due to efforts of government agents, corporations, police authorities and the newspapers, to acquaint the public with the facts and to drive home the risks which foolhardy and negligent motorists incur by their conduct on the roads.

Already, it is reported, that these efforts, supported by an aroused public consciousness of individual responsibility, is bringing results in sections of the country where intensive campaigns have been staged.

There is reason to assume that similar results can be achieved in Canada, if organizations and individuals will rally to the support of the authorities who have decided that the time has come when an organized effort must be made to minimize the hazards created by recklessness and carelessness.

Recklessness and carelessness, in the final analysis, are the two factors responsible for the great majority of deaths and injuries on the highways on this continent, on either side of the international boundary.

For many of the accidents that occur on country roads and city streets recklessness must be indicted, and very often criminal recklessness. In this category falls the driver who travels at greater speed than road, climatic or traffic conditions warrant, the driver who passes other traffic near the crest of a hill or on a curve, the driver who cuts in front of another too soon and the driver who beats the train to the crossing.

With respect to the last-mentioned hazard it is interesting to note that figures just secured from the records of the board of railway commissioners show that in 1935, there were 242 automobile smashups at railroad crossings in Canada, resulting in the death of 114 and injuries to 364, an increase of 28 in the number of similar accidents in 1934, an increase of 33 in the number of deaths and 42 in the number of injuries.

Carelessness, too, must be marked up as the contributing factor for a large number of these accidents. It may be carelessness while the wheel is in the hands of the driver on the road. It may be carelessness in parking in a road in the dark with lights out. It may be negligence in failing to regularly and carefully inspect the brakes, the tires and the lighting system, or in remedying defects when discovered.

And last but not least there is alcohol. Tests by medical authorities and scientists have demonstrated conclusively that the man carrying only a single drink is not as alert as he is normally without it and the man with several drinks inside him is a positive menace to himself, his passengers and those whom he meets or passes.

Alcohol, according to authorities, "plays a major part in the appalling list of accidents on this continent." This is recognized in the posters which are being prepared for distribution as part of the federal government's campaign to ensure greater safety to the users of Canadian highways, one of which reads: "If you must drink, don't drive. If you must drive, don't drink."

Cornell University Builds Machine To Produce Rare Agent

At a cost of $5,000 Cornell University has a machine capable of making artificial radium as a substitute for the real stuff, which cost $40,000 a gram.

Completion of this machine, a cyclotron, the second of its kind in existence, was announced at Ithaca, N.Y. The Cornell cyclotron is already in operation.

The original cyclotron, a machine which uses a $200,000 80-ton magnet to produce 10,000,000 to 15,000,000-volt rays was made by Dr. E. A. Lawrence at the University of California.

A Young Man's Country

Success Can Be Achieved In North States Colonel Cornwall

"The north is coming into its own at last," decried Col. James K. Cornwall, who was in Edmonton recently.

"Peace River Jim" looked into the future and prophesied: "It's a young man's country, a big empire, and surely will prove the salvation of Alberta."

In eastern Canada, where the impulse for northern development has its principal momentum, they are alive to our mineral prospects. While the mineral country is mostly north and east of Alberta, transportation facilities and water routes give Edmonton a strategic advantage over other cities.

"Edmonton is in the same position as regards northern mineral development as Toronto was 25 or 30 years ago, and in my judgment, can repeat the mineral history of that city," he asserted.

"This northland of ours is a young man's country," he proceeded. "It includes perhaps the greatest deposit of virgin mineral country in the world. If youth will face north, it will find success and its future there."

"Forget you have no job. Perfect yourself as much as possible, physically and mentally, and then go north. There will you find your place."

French Query Service

Post Office Charges Different Prices For The Varying Questions

If you happen to be in France and want to know the date America was discovered, how to make good coffee or obtain a quick divorce, just dial S.V.P. on your telephone.

You will be answered by one of the employees of the new "If you please" service, just instituted by Georges Mandel, Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, Paris. At any hour of the day or night, M. Mandel's encyclopaedians will reply. Ordinary questions are answered for a sum of 6 to 15 cents. Twenty to 30 cents are charged for more difficult queries, and special terms are made for a real "poser."

You can also have an errand run by a postoffice cyclist who will deliver your drinks, flowers and anything you like to any address. This will be charged for at the rate of 35 cents in the day and 70 cents at night.

It is expected that plenty of practical jokes will put delicate questions to the new service, but the better the joke, the higher the bill.

Institution For Beggars

Scholars Taught The Correct Places And Manner To Beg

A "beggars' academy" has been discovered by the police of Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, the famous beer city.

An empty barn in the nearby village of Skvrnava was the seat of that institution which had two adult instructors and twenty-six boy "scholars."

The teachers told their pupils how to look miserable and "mained," and how to behave as "blind" and "dumb-and-deaf." Practical exercises were held, and crutches, bandages and other beggar's appliances were purchased at general prices.

Lessons were also given for writing begging letters, and instructions were given where and how the individual boys had to beg. The booty was handed over to the teachers, who retained one-half and distributed the other half among the boys.

Victoria May See Bluenose

Captain Walters Considering Proposition To Visit Pacific Coast

Bluenose, queen of the fishing fleets, may leave her Atlantic home at Lunenburg, N.S., next summer to visit Canada's Pacific coast for the first time.

Captain Angus Walters, skipper of the racing schooner, said he was thinking over a proposition from a Victoria spotter for a Bluenose visit to British Columbia waters, but he hasn't made up his mind yet.

If he takes it up, the Pacific cruise will be Bluenose's longest voyage in her 13 years of fishing, racing and barnstorming.

Two years ago Captain Walters took her to the Great Lakes for the summer—her first taste of fresh water—and last year, he went to England with her. That last voyage was the longest so far.

It came close also to being Bluenose's last. On the way home she ran into a blow that almost sent her to the bottom and drove her reeling back to England for repairs that took three weeks.

But about the Pacific jaunt. "Well," says Angus, "I don't know. They paint a pretty rosy picture, but we'd have to sail six or seven thousand miles to get there. Anyhow, we'll see."

Bluenose is ready for the trip. After a thorough going over on her return to Lunenburg, she is as seaworthy and fast as ever, Captain Walters believes.

Pioneer Newspaper Woman

Faith Fenton, Who Wrote Of Yukon Gold Rush, Dies In Toronto

Faith Fenton, pioneer Canadian newspaperwoman whose accounts of the 1898 gold rush in the Yukon thrilled readers a generation ago, died at her home in Toronto after a brief illness with pneumonia. In private life she was Mrs. John N. E. Brown, wife of a well known physician of Toronto. They were married in the little log church at Dawson on the first New Year's Day of the 20th century.

Dr. Brown had gone in with the first civil commissioner of the Yukon and was the first secretary of that territory. Faith Fenton was there in a dual capacity. At the suggestion of Lady Aberdeen, wife of the governor-general, she joined the field force of the Victorian Order of Nurses. But she also had been commissioned to write articles for a Toronto newspaper.

She obtained permission from the government to remain in the Yukon to write. One of her most famous experiences concerned a hanging. It was scheduled for eight in the morning but the courts left for the south at seven. Faith Fenton wrote her story and sent it off.

Then it was remembered it was a saint's day, the hanging was postponed and finally called off. With the help of police she got a half-breed runner who caught up with the courier several days later.

Terror Of The Air

New Torpedo Can Travel Four Times Farther Than Fastest Shell

An aerial torpedo, or flying projectile, which can travel four times the distance of the fastest shell ever known, is one of two inventions, which may revolutionize warfare.

It is the invention of a young man who, working unobtrusively in a laboratory at Queen Mary's College, London, England, is fast becoming recognized as the Marconi of the aeronautical world.

He is Philozer P. Nazir, aeronautical research student for the Government of India, who although only in his twenties, has already several astonishing inventions to his credit. His researches make him a person of extraordinary interest to the representatives of other governments, many of which would be glad to know a few of the technical secrets which he locked up in his brain.

The German Big Bertha could send a shell only fifty miles.

Mrs. Nazir claims that his flying projectile, travelling on its own fuel, without a pilot, could travel up to 200 miles at a speed of 300 miles an hour, and could be made to drop at any predetermined distance according to the amount of fuel placed inside.

This weapon would enable an air attack to be staged without warning.

Another far-reaching invention is a system of secret guns concealed in the tail of an aeroplane.

The guns are so arranged that immediately another plane comes behind within firing distance it is shot down before it has time to shoot.

A plane of this description, says Mr. Nazir, could attack a whole squadron and produce chaos among them.

Scientific Effort To Be Made To Penetrate Mystery

Dr. Arthur Holly Compton, University of Chicago physicist, and Nobel prize winner, announced the inauguration of world-wide scientific effort to penetrate the mystery of the cosmic ray.

He said he would leave for Vancouver, B.C., to install a cosmic ray meter about the 58.8 orange as one phase of the observations, which will be conducted in widely-scattered regions of the globe.

The enterprise, Dr. Compton said, has two goals. The first was an explanation of the daily variations in the intensity of cosmic rays. The second was to find out whether the rays, powerful enough to go through 292 feet of lead, had greater intensity in the northern than in the southern hemisphere.

BOARD CONCLUDES INVESTIGATION OF AUTO TARIFFS

Ottawa.—A complete picture of the Canadian automobile industry, its claims for protection and arguments against protection is now before the tariff board as a result of the automobile hearing, which ended Jan. 16.

In final submissions to the board representatives of the western provinces contended the tariff on automobiles should be reduced or removed and argued manufacturers had advanced no arguments to justify protection.

The last word at the hearing was from Wallace R. Campbell, president of the Ford Motor Company, who said the automobile industry needed protection to the same extent as other secondary industries in Canada and submitted it was now too late for Canada to turn back on industrialization after large manufacturing industries had been established here.

Canada could have a healthy automobile industry without any duty protection, Dr. W. A. Carruthers, economic advisor to the British Columbia government, told the tariff board.

The automobile industry, Dr. Carruthers said, had never tried to get along without protection. It had developed out of the old carriage industry which enjoyed protection of 35 per cent. and naturally had taken advantage of all the protection it received down through the years. With the industry now well established, staffed with clever executives, and enjoying the natural advantage of being on the spot, he believed it could prosper without protection. It would mean adjustments and some people would lose jobs and have to find others, but it would help the country in the long run.

Canada's tariff structure placed British Columbia in an adverse trading position, he said. That province had to pay heavily for its automobiles from Ontario and would not correspondingly benefit from the industry.

British Columbia did not wish to destroy the industries of eastern Canada, but it wished the question of tariff protection to be viewed in a broad Canadian context, he said, that inasmuch as tariffs bore heavily on the outlying provinces they should be reduced to and kept at the lowest possible level, and not at the level of absolute safety frequently demanded by manufacturers.

Whistart Robertson, representing Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, said the maritime provinces desired keenly a reduction in the price of automobiles. The whole tenor of the automobile companies' submissions, with few exceptions, said Mr. Robertson, ignored the real object of the inquiry, lower prices for automobiles in Canada. They made a plea for continued protection and continued higher prices.

Prices of cars in Canada were 30 to 50 per cent. higher than in the United States, said Mr. Robertson. Prices of parts showed an even greater spread and prices of accessories ranged as much as 100 per cent. higher than in the United States.

By regulating, drawbacks and arbitrary valuations the real protection afforded Canadian automobile manufacturers was much higher than the customs tariff of 20 per cent., he continued. This enabled Canadian manufacturers to sell cars at prices higher than the duty-paid price of imported United States cars. "I suggest methods of raising the tariff and increasing protection without letting the public know about it is unsound," said Mr. Robertson, "an industry is built on an unsound basis when it is built on that basis."

Making Thorough Probe

Edmonton.—Witnesses will be subpoenaed and all evidence possible on the case will be demanded, Attorney-general Huggill said in answering pleas by a delegation of miners relating to the Coalbrook mine disaster investigation which will open at Lethbridge courthouse, Feb. 3.

Toronto.—"Within four or five years there is strong likelihood a moderate form of Socialistic government will be in power in Great Britain," the Marquis of Lethbride, noted British political authority, predicted in an address before the Canadian Club here.

Farmers' Lot Is Improved

Position of Canadian Agriculture Better Than A Year Ago

Ottawa.—All factors considered, the position of Canadian agriculture is better now than a year ago and there is reason to hope one year from now the position will be further improved, according to the annual survey and outlook made public by the department of agriculture.

This annual survey serves to a considerable extent as a guide to farmers in their spring planting. After a comprehensive review of the wheat situation the review said: "While the wheat situation in so far as Canada is concerned is involved at the moment, yet this country must and will continue to produce wheat on a substantial scale. It should be noted, however, that in view of the greatly reduced world import demand the wheat produced by a normal yield on an acreage similar to that shown in 1935 would be difficult to dispose of."

"The quality of Canadian wheat has long enjoyed an enviable reputation on the world's markets and this must be maintained. In certain sections of the west, but chiefly in the so-called 'park belt,' the quality is liable to be below the average and in such sections it would seem desirable to adopt a system of farming that would involve a diversion of some of this wheat land to other crops. Fortunately, these sections are better adapted to coarse grains and livestock than are certain other areas that are restricted largely to wheat."

Bank Employees Shot

Two Members Of Bank Of Commerce Staff In Vancouver Shot In Holdup

Vancouver.—Police arrested three known underworld characters and held them for investigation in the holdup of the Powell street branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce where two bank employees were shot, one probably fatally, by three bandits who escaped with $1,200.

Meanwhile chief of police W. W. Foster announced that the Canadian Bankers' Association had offered $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of the gunmen involved in the holdup which may cost young William H. Hobbs, former Radisson, Sask., bank clerk, his life and sent Thomas Winsky, bank manager, to hospital with a bullet wound in his left arm.

Winsky also came from Saskatchewan where he was manager of several branches until transferred here in 1927.

Despite the three arrests officers continued to scour the city. The wounded men were rushed to hospital where it was found the bullet had pierced Hobbs' throat, striking his spine and paralyzing him. An emergency operation was performed and he was put under an oxygen tent.

Hobbs, 25 years old, was formerly with the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Radisson, Sask. He came to British Columbia in 1933. His parents were reported to be living in Edmonton.

Civil Service Examinations

Westerners Figure On First Fifteen Of English List

Ottawa.—The civil service commission announced that Aaron B. Handler of Kingston, Ont., headed the English list of 62 successful examination candidates for the eligible list of Grade 4 clerks in the government service.

The examination, open only to graduates of universities, was held to establish a list from which men for key positions might be drawn and trained to hold executive posts in the service.

The first 15 on the English list included: Edward A. Benca, Saskatoon; Russell H. Taber, Regina; Henry S. Ferns and Gordon H. Josie, Winnipeg; Solomon Milner, Regina, and Francis V. Kinahan, Calgary.

Civil Servants In Manitoba Drawing Pay From Federal Government, Are Liable

Ottawa.—The supreme court of Canada decided that Canadian soldiers and Dominion civil servants drawing pay from the federal government and living in Manitoba were liable for payment of the two per cent. income tax imposed by the Manitoba legislature in 1933.

The decision will affect more than 3,500 employees of the Dominion government and members of the permanent militia forces.

Storage Of Gas

First Attempt In Canada To Store Gas Underground

Calgary.—Successful storage of gas in a depleted field—the first known attempt in Canada to store gas underground—has been accomplished according to an announcement by F. D. Mellon, general superintendent and chief engineer of the Canadian Western Natural Gas, Light, Heat and Power Company.

The company has repressured the Bow Island gas field, Mr. Mellon said, and 8,000,000 cubic feet of gas had been stored in the field up to Dec. 31, 1935. Of 27 wells in the field, 18 were sealed and the nine others were reconditioned and made available for receiving and repressuring purposes.

Experiments were first carried out in the field, the engineer stated, and when these proved successful in raising the pressure by injecting 37,000,000 feet of gas into eight wells, raising the rock pressure 30 pounds per square inch, the Dominion government co-operated by issuing an order-in-council withdrawing the rights to file or drill on approximately 20 square miles of territory.

OIL SANCTIONS PROPOSALS HELD IN ABEYANCE

London.—In a London thick with gloomy fog the cabinet met to discuss the next move regarding proposed oil sanctions against Italy. The foreign secretary, it is predicted, will sound out the other delegations and after the usual Geneva conversations state the British position. That position, according to present indications, will be largely dependent on the situation as revealed at Athens.

Factors entering into a more modified British attitude are: Reports that the league sanctions now in force against Italy are working better than anyone anticipated, thus rendering further action less urgent. Doubts whether oil sanctions are expedient at present in view of the existing Italian stocks, the opening of the "little rocky season" in Ethiopia, and uncertainty about the attitude of oil-producing nations outside the league.

On the other hand, the waves of protest which swept over Great Britain against the Hoare-Laval peace plan last month was a warning which no government, however strong, can afford to ignore. As a shareholder in the Anglo-Persian Oil Company—which counts Italy among its customers—the British government feels particularly open to criticism. It may further be taken that if nothing is done on oil sanctions by the time the House of Commons re-assembles February 4, the opposition will launch a renewed attack.

Army Budget Doubled

Soviet Will Spend Large Sum To Strengthen Forces

Moscow.—After repeated charges aggressive neighbors are threatening the Soviet Union with war both to the east and west, the government announced its military budget for 1936 will be more than double that of last year.

During 1935 the standing army was brought to approximately 1,300,000 men.

Russia this year will spend 14,000,000,000 rubles ($2,900,000,000 under the new official exchange rate) on armed forces, Gregory Grinko, commissar of finance, announced to the all-Union central executive committee. The committee unanimously approved the proposal.

Last year's war budget was 6,500,000 rubles, but the expenditures actually reached more than 8,500,000,000 rubles.

Grinko also announced 28,700,000,000 rubles will be used this year for construction work, a large part of which will go to the reconstruction of Moscow and Leningrad.

Heckler Asks Question

Malcolm MacDonald Is Queried Regarding Canadian Oats

Dingwall, Scotland.—Canadian oats entered the picturesque by-election battle in the constituency of Ross and Cromarty.

"Could you not, as dominions secretary, have already stopped excessive importation of Canadian oats?" a heckler questioned Malcolm MacDonald at a meeting of farmers in Dingwall cattle market.

"I have been dominions secretary only a few weeks," MacDonald replied. "It depends on you whether I am going to remain dominions secretary for more than another few weeks," he continued amid laughter. His policy was the home producer first and the dominions second, MacDonald said.

Lord Tweedsmuir Interested In Technical Process Of Mineral Extraction

Kirkland Lake, Ont.—After visiting the Noranda mine, interesting himself in the technical processes of mineral extraction, the governor-general came to Kirkland Lake during his first visit to northern Ontario.

Much of what Lord Tweedsmuir saw at Noranda was new to him, but some was not. As he was guided through the extensive workings by President J. V. Murdoch and General Manager H. L. Roscoe, of the mine, His Excellency was informed one particular machine was something of an innovation in gold mining.

Lord Tweedsmuir demurred. He had seen the operation once in the Rand, 30 years ago, and to his hearers he gave the place, the date and the name of the man in South Africa who had worked the machine.

Old Treaty Covering Hunting Produced In Ontario Court

Wallaceburg, Ont.—A clause of what is believed to be the Jay treaty affecting Governor Simcoe in 1792 and stating that Indians may hunt within 16 feet of the banks of any creek in Canada, was produced in court here by R. A. Carscallen, illegal defending two Indians on an alleged hunting charge. The result was that Magistrate S. E. Arnold reserved judgment in the case for a month while he investigates the authority of the Jay treaty in relation to present day conditions.

NAVAL PARLEY IS NOW CLOUDED IN UNCERTAINTY

London.—Japan walked out of the international naval conference and the future of limitation of naval armaments—an established fact for 13 years—was clouded in uncertainty.

All delegations, including the Japanese, made clear they wanted to avoid a naval building race. Nevertheless, in some quarters this was seen as an eventual possibility resulting from the breakdown of the five-power conversations.

Japan's move was because the four other powers—and with them the British dominions represented at the conference—refused to grant her demands for naval parity with Great Britain and the United States.

Abandonment of the parley by the Japanese was quickly followed by a veritable rain of statements and explanations from all delegations designed to show why the meeting broke up.

Britain, the United States, France and Italy voted to continue in an attempt to work out a limitation agreement without Japan.

Lingering hopes were expressed in British and American quarters that the Japanese might return to the conference and that the development would not harm relationships between them on other questions.

Admiral Osami Nagano, head of the eastern delegation, said in a statement Japan does not want to embark upon a naval race and was determined to cultivate assiduously the most friendly relations with other nations. There were no indications that this reassured the other delegates, however.

The British labelled Tokyo's proposal "suicidal" to the British Empire in the present state of the world.

The British position, it was said in authoritative quarters, was that while she has responsibilities in European waters, the Atlantic, Indian and Pacific oceans, she was asked to uphold all those responsibilities with a fleet no larger than that of a country concerned with one, or at the most two, of these seas.

Hinting at uncertainties developed from the Italo-Ethiopian war, it was said that it is plain to-day that the British navy is as necessary to "uphold collective security" as to defend its own country.

After the meeting an American spokesman said: "We will join a four-power conference because we do not want a naval race."

"Naturally we will have to consider a provision for some contingency in case Japan or some other power starts building."

"There will probably be some escape clause in any agreement the four powers may reach so as to take care of any such contingency."

GRANTS THIRTY DAY REPRIEVE TO HAUPTMANN

Trenton, N.J.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted Lindbergh baby killer, was saved temporarily from the electric chair by a 30-day reprieve from Governor Hoffman.

It came only 29 hours before the hour of execution.

"I am granting a reprieve," the governor said, "for divers reasons which I do not care to disclose at this time."

The reprieve, though only for 30 days, actually assures Hauptmann of at least eight more weeks of life and perhaps three months due to the fact it will be necessary to resent him.

Governor Hoffman acted soon after the United States supreme court, in a one-sentence decision by Chief Justice Hughes, had denied Hauptmann's appeal for a writ of habeas corpus and a stay of execution.

There will be only the one reprieve, "unless the evidence should warrant," another, the governor said. If Hauptmann is finally to be saved it must be through the presentation of sufficient new evidence to warrant Justice Thomas Trenchard, who sat at Flemington, granting a request for a new trial or for a new plea for clemency to the state pardons court.

The governor announced his decision in his office shortly after talking with Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, who presumably had called upon him to plead for her husband's life.

There was no formal statement by the governor, who spoke extemporaneously. He said:

"The attorney-general and I have been in conference on this matter, and I have decided to announce a reprieve of 30 days."

"We have agreed that this will not be challenged."

"It is my intention to grant only this one reprieve. There will be no further reprieve."

"I am giving this reprieve for divers reasons which I do not care to disclose at this time. It is an act of executive clemency, and there can be no extension of the reprieve unless the evidence should warrant it."

"No formal request was made to me to take this action."

"There is plenty of precedent for the action I am taking."

Ontario Town Wrecked

Natural Gas Supposed To Be Cause Of Explosion

Wheatley, Ont.—Natural gas, escaping from a heater, is believed to have caused the terrific explosion which shook this town, demolished the Odeffolows' block and caused damage estimated at $50,000. Two women returning from a party were knocked down by the blast and struck by the flying debris but were not injured seriously.

Only a single wall remains of the building, considered Wheatley's finest. The post office village council chambers, Gillies furniture parlors, and lodge building were obliterated, while mail and town records went up in smoke as fire ensued following the explosion.

Those villagers who were first on the scene said they saw four balls of smoke and flame burst through the roof of the building, and then the entire structure crumbled into a heap.
